

This Column is Dedicated to the National Liberal Party—Matter Intended for Publication Should Be Addressed to Morris Sachs, Secretary, Atlas Bank Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Larchmont Manor, N. Y., Oct. 6, 1902.

Dear Sir:—Your letter of the 29th ult. with the handsome certificate duly received, for which I have my sincere thanks. I am very glad and gratified to hear that you are so interested in the "Blade" and that you are so kind as to "display" as you kindly represent it, "the interest in everything appearing to freethought and human rights" for the future, that I have, as you think, exhibited in the past. Dr. Wilson, who so recently visited me in my Larchmont home, can tell you about that. I feel sure he will excuse me on account of my physical inability. I shall undoubtedly feel the same interest I have ever felt in the cause, but can hardly do active service, which I greatly regret.

In regard to the proposed sending of Dr. Wilson to Rome to represent America in the coming Liberal Congress in the Eternal City, I am in full sympathy with the western movement, but why not send the details briefly and definitely over and under the names of the subscribers, published in the Blade?

If a synopsis of your article which appeared on the third page of the Blade of the 20th of September, under the caption of "Rome," could appear each week over the list of names of subscribers, and a synopsis of what Dr. Wilson has to say in regard to the same matter on the last page of the same issue could follow the same list, so that every new reader would understand the matter, I would feel sure that the list would grow more rapidly.

In a recent number of the Blade I saw two separate lists, one headed "Wilson and his friends" and the other "Rome Congress Fund." In your discussion of the matter you propose that the subscribers to the "Blade" should be returned to each subscriber now, while Dr. Wilson in his letter tells his friends not to send in any money to return him that he could attend the Congress. Of course everybody knows that Dr. Wilson is not returning to the United States, has his limitations, and that circumstances might arise to prevent him from going, and that, in his opinion, is the better one. We all want Dr. Wilson to go. We would like to view the proceedings through his keen eyes, and we would desire a report of the same through his graphic pen. It would be almost as satisfactory as personal attendance to each subscriber as you propose.

Let the price of the book be definitely stated, so that each subscriber may know just what a copy of the same he will be entitled to. I have no doubt the list will grow rapidly. I have no doubt the list will grow rapidly. I have no doubt the list will grow rapidly.

It is our desire (the St. P. and J. C. that Dr. Wilson represent us) that Dr. Wilson represent us. It is our desire (the St. P. and J. C. that Dr. Wilson represent us) that Dr. Wilson represent us.

In behalf of Dr. Wilson I extend sincere thanks to Dr. Foote senior and junior. I am also obliged to the doctor for his suggestion, and judging from a conversation I recently had with Dr. Wilson the plan proposed by Dr. Foote is perfectly agreeable to Dr. Wilson.

We all hope that Dr. Wilson will be able to attend the Rome Congress, and if anything now unforeseen should prevent his going we can then agree upon some one else.

I may be bold in my assertion, and may be premature in my suggestion, but I am now ready to cast my vote for an alternate to the Rome Congress in favor of Dr. T. J. Jowles, of Muncie, Ind.

And again, if nobody is selected to go, every dollar contributed will be returned to the subscribers in full. There will be no expense attached in returning the money, as the same can be easily checked and mailed to the proper persons, and the interest we would receive from the Trust Company would be more than pay for postage.

At this writing, Friday morning, October 9, we have $156 deposited in The Central Trust and Safe Deposit Company, of Cincinnati, to the credit of the Rome-Wilson fund, and hope this fund will grow rapidly. M. S.

copy and additional postage (about 20 cents).

As the journey, heavy expenses for interpreters and stenographers and the publication of the book will require quite a large sum of money, it is necessary that Dr. Wilson's friends and those who may desire the book send in their subscriptions and contributions as early as possible.

For that purpose an account has been opened in The Central Trust and Safe Deposit Company, of Cincinnati, in the name of the Rome-Wilson Fund, where the money is deposited as soon as received, and will draw interest until needed.

All contributions and subscriptions will be acknowledged through the Blade, and the amount on deposit stated each week.

A good many people have ordered ten and five copies of the book, and the respective numbers will follow this example.

At the request of Dr. Wilson the undersigned is keeping an account of all subscriptions and contributions, and for convenience of contributors and subscribers is sent directly to him. The amount contributed and subscribed for is.....

The amount contributed and subscribed for is.....

Money can be sent to the sender. Address: Morris Sachs, Atlas Bank Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Knights Templar Talking Through Their Large Hats.

A Chicago dispatch tells about a scheme of the Knights Templar to raise an army of 500,000 in the name of Christ.

I've been over these lately and saw those fellows. That kind of talk, through your "cocker," that will give you a good idea of what they are up to.

Let me know before you go and "fill" write over there and give the old boys a pointer or two.

I've been over these lately and saw those fellows. That kind of talk, through your "cocker," that will give you a good idea of what they are up to.

Let me know before you go and "fill" write over there and give the old boys a pointer or two.

I've been over these lately and saw those fellows. That kind of talk, through your "cocker," that will give you a good idea of what they are up to.

Let me know before you go and "fill" write over there and give the old boys a pointer or two.

Phillips, Ind.—Dear Sir: Find enclosed 40 cents for which send me for $18.50—$22.25 for two "Dog Fennel" slips, and for the $1.00 blade, send me two subscription cards. I am glad Mr. Moore is back safe. I am afraid he would have a scrap with some of those Oriental phots. About getting subscribers for the Blade, I don't know any better way than for every friend of the Blade to get a move on him, or her, and send in new subscribers. Every friend of the Blade would do as I am doing—send me the money for five more—you would save your $5.00.—J. L. PEBBLES.

Billings, Mont.—Enclosed $1.00 for "Dog Fennel in the Orient." Please send by return mail. I am very anxious to read it. I will send the dollar for my Blade and will try to get some subscribers for it. My neighbors send it and are beginning to see things in a different light. They see that the Bible is a pretty big story book.—MRS. E. O. ARB.

Titusville, Pa.—Enclosed money order for $18.50—$22.25 for two "Dog Fennel" slips, and for the $1.00 blade, send me two subscription cards. I am glad Mr. Moore is back safe. I am afraid he would have a scrap with some of those Oriental phots. About getting subscribers for the Blade, I don't know any better way than for every friend of the Blade to get a move on him, or her, and send in new subscribers. Every friend of the Blade would do as I am doing—send me the money for five more—you would save your $5.00.—J. L. PEBBLES.

Terrill, Texas.—Enclosed $1.00 for "Dog Fennel in the Orient." Please send by return mail. I am very anxious to read it. I will send the dollar for my Blade and will try to get some subscribers for it. My neighbors send it and are beginning to see things in a different light. They see that the Bible is a pretty big story book.—MRS. E. O. ARB.

West Sulton, Mass.—To say I thank Mr. Elder Krier for his sympathy extended to Miss De Christ, of Georgia, is but expressing my appreciation of his action in behalf of human rights in general and woman in particular. I have been over these lately and saw those fellows. That kind of talk, through your "cocker," that will give you a good idea of what they are up to.

Let me know before you go and "fill" write over there and give the old boys a pointer or two.

I've been over these lately and saw those fellows. That kind of talk, through your "cocker," that will give you a good idea of what they are up to.

Let me know before you go and "fill" write over there and give the old boys a pointer or two.

I've been over these lately and saw those fellows. That kind of talk, through your "cocker," that will give you a good idea of what they are up to.

Let me know before you go and "fill" write over there and give the old boys a pointer or two.

I've been over these lately and saw those fellows. That kind of talk, through your "cocker," that will give you a good idea of what they are up to.

Let me know before you go and "fill" write over there and give the old boys a pointer or two.

I've been over these lately and saw those fellows. That kind of talk, through your "cocker," that will give you a good idea of what they are up to.

Let me know before you go and "fill" write over there and give the old boys a pointer or two.

I've been over these lately and saw those fellows. That kind of talk, through your "cocker," that will give you a good idea of what they are up to.

the Blade and am heartily in accord with the media operandi of combating the incalculable evils of the various teachings of the great John Bull, commonly known as "Dog Fennel," which I have read and will remit for two copies of "Dog Fennel"—C. E. PRICE.

Lincoln, Mass.—Through the kindness of Mr. Talbot, of Proctor, Mo., I have been sent this Blade for about one year, and must say it is an eye-opener. I have never seen a copy like the paper that was not more than a year's subscription to it. I, like myself, once belonged to the Methodist church, and I have been a member of that church for some years, but the death of my mother and a dear mother, neither of whom belonged to any church, opened my eyes. According to my religion they would both be in hell today, but I cannot enjoy heaven, and know, or believe, that fact. I enclose $2.25. Send me "Dog Fennel" and credit me one year on Blade.—H. W. CHALFANT.

Richland Center, Wis.—I wish to say that the two books, "Dog Fennel" and "Behind the Bars," have been sent me by the wrapper of my Blade that my subscription has expired, and I enclose a "sweet Will" for the Blade Magazine and will take two, if not three, copies. I enjoy "Dog Fennel." I was stricken with paralysis nearly two years ago, but I have been better all the time, and I attribute my improvement to reading the Blade. I am nearly 68 years old, and with great difficulty that I can write. I will send you 25 cents and you can send me one of those infidel buttons.—J. R. CASBY.

Oak Centre, Wis.—Find $1.00 to remit for the Blade, as I have been at our house, a welcome weekly visitor for so long. Thanks for printing the Blade in America, and for making it so. I had been married 52 years and six months, and was always together. I am now 80 years old, and my wife is 78.—MRS. SMITH EMBERTON.

New York City.—Last March I met Captain Lord, of New Rochelle, and through him, for the first time, I learned of the Blade. He had subscribed for six months to see how it would like it, and I find that I can do so. I will send you $1.00 for the Blade, and I will send you $1.00 for the Blade, and I will send you $1.00 for the Blade.

Let me know before you go and "fill" write over there and give the old boys a pointer or two.

I've been over these lately and saw those fellows. That kind of talk, through your "cocker," that will give you a good idea of what they are up to.

Let me know before you go and "fill" write over there and give the old boys a pointer or two.

I've been over these lately and saw those fellows. That kind of talk, through your "cocker," that will give you a good idea of what they are up to.

Let me know before you go and "fill" write over there and give the old boys a pointer or two.

I've been over these lately and saw those fellows. That kind of talk, through your "cocker," that will give you a good idea of what they are up to.

Let me know before you go and "fill" write over there and give the old boys a pointer or two.

I've been over these lately and saw those fellows. That kind of talk, through your "cocker," that will give you a good idea of what they are up to.

Let me know before you go and "fill" write over there and give the old boys a pointer or two.

I've been over these lately and saw those fellows. That kind of talk, through your "cocker," that will give you a good idea of what they are up to.

Answer.—I am, on principle, opposed to any kind of secret society, and the one more nearer joining this than any that I know of.

Cleveland, Ohio.—I have read "Dog Fennel in the Orient"—what a hell of a name for so grand a book—through time and first time. I was as much interested in the second time as the first. You seem to be a man of the first class. I called J. Christ—whether he, or to be elevated or was crucified in one of the most places. I have been satisfied me that there did not, at the time and place mentioned, exist any such thing. Enclosed find $1.00 for which send me as many Blue Grass Blades of last issue as you can afford. That letter of Dr. Wilson's should be read by all people in America.—E. C. BACON.

Moreau, Idaho.—Enclosed $1.20 for "Dog Fennel." As to infidels belonging to Freemasons, there are lots of them. I have found in my travels three saloons for one church or school. I have found in my travels three saloons for one church or school. I have found in my travels three saloons for one church or school.

Richland Center, Wis.—I wish to say that the two books, "Dog Fennel" and "Behind the Bars," have been sent me by the wrapper of my Blade that my subscription has expired, and I enclose a "sweet Will" for the Blade Magazine and will take two, if not three, copies. I enjoy "Dog Fennel." I was stricken with paralysis nearly two years ago, but I have been better all the time, and I attribute my improvement to reading the Blade. I am nearly 68 years old, and with great difficulty that I can write. I will send you 25 cents and you can send me one of those infidel buttons.—J. R. CASBY.

Oak Centre, Wis.—Find $1.00 to remit for the Blade, as I have been at our house, a welcome weekly visitor for so long. Thanks for printing the Blade in America, and for making it so. I had been married 52 years and six months, and was always together. I am now 80 years old, and my wife is 78.—MRS. SMITH EMBERTON.

New York City.—Last March I met Captain Lord, of New Rochelle, and through him, for the first time, I learned of the Blade. He had subscribed for six months to see how it would like it, and I find that I can do so. I will send you $1.00 for the Blade, and I will send you $1.00 for the Blade, and I will send you $1.00 for the Blade.

Let me know before you go and "fill" write over there and give the old boys a pointer or two.

I've been over these lately and saw those fellows. That kind of talk, through your "cocker," that will give you a good idea of what they are up to.

Let me know before you go and "fill" write over there and give the old boys a pointer or two.

I've been over these lately and saw those fellows. That kind of talk, through your "cocker," that will give you a good idea of what they are up to.

Let me know before you go and "fill" write over there and give the old boys a pointer or two.

I've been over these lately and saw those fellows. That kind of talk, through your "cocker," that will give you a good idea of what they are up to.

Let me know before you go and "fill" write over there and give the old boys a pointer or two.

I've been over these lately and saw those fellows. That kind of talk, through your "cocker," that will give you a good idea of what they are up to.

Let me know before you go and "fill" write over there and give the old boys a pointer or two.

I've been over these lately and saw those fellows. That kind of talk, through your "cocker," that will give you a good idea of what they are up to.

land.—The pebble from Oliver, however, is not so highly prized as the one from Quaker, for the pebble from the Kentucky salt flat has produced the most intelligent of the old world, as you will find, is not so much as yours, it is more sacred to me than that of the so-called Holy Lauds of the old world.

If the specimen marked "The Sphinx" is a chip off the old block, I shall not be surprised to find it as good as the old Egyptian, but without the stains of suns of centuries, it is a very different thing. I shall not be surprised to find it as good as the old Egyptian, but without the stains of suns of centuries, it is a very different thing.

The porous specimen, which was once a superheated substance from the earth's interior ejected through the crater of Vesuvius, has lost its potency as a agent of God in destroying cities because of the wickedness of the people.

I sincerely thank you for these remembrances and trust that you may continue to give us the many little incidents of your trip. In the Blade which were covered by one of your books. Yours sincerely, HARRISON CLOSZ.

S. S. White moved I took a severe cold, and I have been in the clutches of the rheumatism for some time. I am very different from me to write. Will send you a copy of the Blade as soon as it is possible for me to do so. H. C.

At Wheeling, W. Va., John Laughlin opened the article on the "Blade" and, and blew out his brains with a pistol.

James W. Hopkins fell dead in church at Ravenswood Baptist church.

Leighton, Pa.—Enclosed find $2.00 for a copy of "Dog Fennel in the Orient" and for material for the Blade Magazine, which please send to Miss Esther M. Pensabaker, Virginia, Va. I have enjoyed very much the reading of the first chapters upon its name.—ROBT. U. JACOB.

Comment.—That's the man who got off the joke about Joshua making the sun and moon stand still. The man who got off the joke about Joshua making the sun and moon stand still. The man who got off the joke about Joshua making the sun and moon stand still.

Comment.—That's the man who got off the joke about Joshua making the sun and moon stand still. The man who got off the joke about Joshua making the sun and moon stand still. The man who got off the joke about Joshua making the sun and moon stand still.

Comment.—That's the man who got off the joke about Joshua making the sun and moon stand still. The man who got off the joke about Joshua making the sun and moon stand still. The man who got off the joke about Joshua making the sun and moon stand still.

Comment.—That's the man who got off the joke about Joshua making the sun and moon stand still. The man who got off the joke about Joshua making the sun and moon stand still. The man who got off the joke about Joshua making the sun and moon stand still.

Comment.—That's the man who got off the joke about Joshua making the sun and moon stand still. The man who got off the joke about Joshua making the sun and moon stand still. The man who got off the joke about Joshua making the sun and moon stand still.

Comment.—That's the man who got off the joke about Joshua making the sun and moon stand still. The man who got off the joke about Joshua making the sun and moon stand still. The man who got off the joke about Joshua making the sun and moon stand still.

Comment.—That's the man who got off the joke about Joshua making the sun and moon stand still. The man who got off the joke about Joshua making the sun and moon stand still. The man who got off the joke about Joshua making the sun and moon stand still.

